Delilah's life evolving clothing and products

Kori Ellis

Delilah's "Life Evolving" clothing line and products have become a vital force in changing the energy and vibrations in their customer's lives. Realizing how important clothing is through its designs, messages and colors, Delilah Walker has created "Life Evolving" to emit positive vibrations into the Universe.

Now you can truly "dress for success" - with the intention of strengthening the fundamental nature and connection with the Universe and removing negativity in their personal environment. Not only are thoughts and words powerful, clothes have become walking billboards, essential tools to attract and manifest fulfillment and happiness.

Transmitting positive expressions of enlightenment through Sacred Geometric symbols and affirmations printed on the clothes, "Life Evolving" clothing and accessories for men, women and children have the power to re-program and collectively change the consciousness of the world.

Delilah Walker, designer, creator and healer for the past twenty years, is an advocate of the significance of how and what we transmit into the Universe. Delilah is a famous healer to the stars and has always believed in giving gifts that emit healing and good vibrations.

"Our energy is transmitted into the cosmos, first within our own personal space and then throughout the Universe," explains Delilah. "I welcome you to change the vibrations around yourself and create a new world, one of enlightenment that breaks through the human condition and sets forth a pattern of positive energy for our future generations."

I recently had the opportunity to try some of Delilah's fabulous yoga wear, as well as her lotions and other products. And they are truly wonderful.

When visiting the website of Delilah's Energy Center, one of the most interesting aspects is her stress on the importance of color in your life.

Here is Delilah's breakdown on the specific vibrational messages sent by different colors:

RED: Maintaining health, strength, physical energy, sex, passion, courage, and protection. It is the color of the element of Fire. Red is associated with blood (life and death,) birth, volcanoes, and intense emotions.

PINK: Love, friendship, compassion, relaxation. Pink is symbolic of gentle emotions and of emotional unions, less intense than red. It overcomes evil, represents honor, morality, friendship, general success.

ORANGE: General attraction, energy, encouragement, strengthens concentration, adaptability, and stimulation.

YELLOW: Intellect, confidence, divination, communication, eloquence, travel, movement, attraction, persuasion, instills confidence, charm. Yellow is the color of the element of Air. It symbolizes the sun, grain, and the power of thought.

GREEN: Money, prosperity, employment, fertility, healing, growth. Green is the color of the element of the Earth and symbolizes our planet's fertility (the color of chlorophyll) as well as life itself.

BLUE: Healing, peace, patience, happiness. It is the color of the element of Water.

DARK BLUE: Changeability, impulsiveness and very subduing.

LIGHT BLUE: Understanding, health, tranquility, protection, peace, general happiness, sharpens the power to perceive, spiritual awareness and patience.

PURPLE: Power, healing severe disease, spirituality, meditation, religion, ambition, promotes business progress, causes tension, and strengthens will power. Once a European symbol of royalty, today it symbolizes the Divine.

WHITE: Protection, purification, all purposes. Symbolic of the Moon, freshness, snow, cold, and potential. It adds to spiritual strength, breaks curses or crossed conditions, and represents faith, purity, truth and sincerity.

BLACK: Banishing negativity, absorbing negativity, sadness and mourning, symbolizing outer space and the universe. Black is the absence of colors. In some cultures, black represented fertility, in others - wisdom.

GRAY: Neutrality.

BROWN: Brown represents soil and the fertility of the Earth.
